Gallery Condominiums Brings Distinctive Art Program to Buckhead

Tuesday, September 18, 2007 -

Gallery, the landmark 27-story Buckhead condominium project from Novare Group and Coro Realty Advisors, will partner with four of Atlanta's leading-edge artistic institutions to provide original painting, photography and sculpture for the Gallery tower's signature amenity space fronting Peachtree Road.

As one of its residents' many amenities, the Gallery building will feature a 1,000 square foot private gallery on the ground floor to display unique and innovative art work from some of Atlanta's most renowned galleries.

Under the agreement, four galleries will showcase pieces in the Gallery space:

- Bill Lowe Gallery – Under the ownership and direction of Bill Lowe, Bill Lowe Gallery represents artists who share powerful and eloquent visions supported by a highly advanced mastery of their media. Located in Buckhead's Bennett Street art district, The Lowe Gallery has gained an international reputation for its curatorial skills since opening in 1989.
- TEW Galleries – Led by the essential style and energy of Timothy Tew, TEW Galleries displays a dynamic program of both established and emerging artists that delivers a spectrum of exceptional art that is as enduring as it is contemporary. Part of the Atlanta art scene for 20 years, TEW Galleries moved to its new space in Buckhead's Galleries of Peachtree Hills in 2005.
- Marcia Wood Gallery – Marcia Wood Gallery represents contemporary artists of exceptional merit who range from groundbreaking young artists with emerging careers to internationally established masters. Marcia Wood opened her first gallery in Atlanta in 1985. In 1995 she founded Marcia Wood Gallery, which is currently in its 3rd location, the historic downtown loft district of Castleberry Hill.
- Mason Murer Fine Art – Mason Murer Fine Art is a 24,000 square-foot gallery in Atlanta's Midtown neighborhood. Representing regional artists as well as artists from around the world, the gallery offers sculpture, painting, photography and works on paper by emerging and established artists in a range of styles.

The four galleries will each curate two three-month rotating art shows at the Gallery art space beginning when the condo tower opens in December. The first gallery to display artwork will be the Bill Lowe Gallery, which will display works from December 2007 through May 2008. Novare and Coro have partnered with long-time Atlanta designer Janice Dietz to serve as the space's curator.

Frank Reese, Novare Group's developer of Gallery, commented, "We are incredibly pleased to partner with these leading Atlanta art galleries to provide a truly unique amenity for our residents. Changing exhibitions of top contemporary art will contribute color, creativity and energy to the experience of living at Gallery."

Patti Pearlberg, Coro Realty Advisors' vice president of asset management, added, "Gallery's buyers are very discerning; our selected partner galleries are of the highest caliber. We look forward to the debut of the first exhibition, which will begin a great journey for the residents as they explore art in all its forms."

Opening in December, the 203-home Gallery building will feature one-, two- and three-bedroom luxury condominium homes from the $400s at 2795 Peachtree, at the corner of Peachtree and Rumson roads, just south of Buckhead Village. This is Novare Group's third condominium project in Buckhead.

Gallery is a distinctive marriage of classic and contemporary architecture forged from a collaboration of two nationally-recognized, award-winning Atlanta firms – architects Smallwood, Reynolds, Stewart, Stewart & Associates and residential designer William T. Baker. In addition to its architectural pedigree, the building will incorporate many amenities and stylistic touches, including floor-to-ceiling windows, large balconies, 10-foot ceilings, kitchens with granite and KitchenAid, Viking and Sub-Zero stainless steel appliances, and high-tech features such as ultra-high speed Internet access and pre-wiring for surround sound. Homes at Gallery average 1,700 square feet and will have traditional foyers, increased storage, hardwood floors, and other high-end appointments.

Community amenities will include a resort-style pool deck with outdoor fireplace and grilling areas, traditional and "virtual" art galleries, a club-quality fitness center with aerobic and weight areas, two club rooms with high-definition plasma TVs, guest suites, a tennis court, finely manicured grounds and multiple Wi-Fi hot spots. Residents will also
